MY OBJECTIVE

To apply my creative skills and contribute to a challenging project in an artistic environment.
To have my writing represented and produced, and make money from my writing.

CREDENTIALS

In England I have coordinated script writing workshop and contributed to the organization and successful running of an international film festival. I have also designed and produced promotional materials, and drafted a variety of contracts, articles and other texts. I am also a genuine English/Spanish bilingual.

Author of scripts, web content, film criticism, song parodies, poetry, and much banter. Comfortable in front of an audience. In recent years have engaged in the occasional stand-up of original material, street corner song and work as an extra; and years back was regularly engaged in theatre productions in a variety of capacities.
